

Ref. No. ....

Date.....

STUDENT SATISFACTION SURVEY

The above graph shows that out of the 426 students, 197 respondents said that the coverage of syllabus was very good, 184 respondents said it was good, 42 respondents found the coverage of syllabus as fair while 5 respondents reported it as poor and only 1 respondent found it very poor. This depicts that that coverage of syllabus in the classroom was performed on time and utmost importance is given to academics.

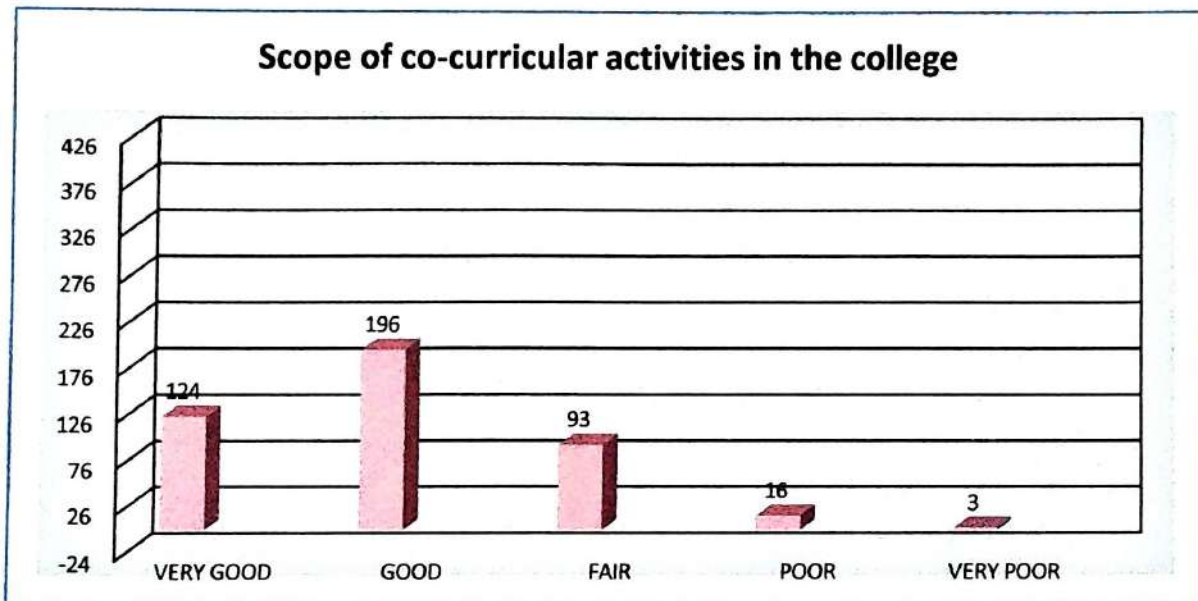

---

167 of the respondents reported the teacher's approach to teaching as very good, 188 found it good, 73 of the respondents found it fair and about 2 to 6 respondents marked it as very poor and poor. The above responses in the graph clearly reflect that there is an overall satisfaction among the students with the teaching approach.

STUDENT SATISFACTION SURVEY

The graph shows that the students are actively engaged with the co-curricular activities organized by the college. Besides academics, the institution focuses on the extracurricular activities for the holistic development of the students. 124 students rated it as Very Good, Good by 196 respondents, Fair by 93 respondents, 16 respondents found it poor and only 3 students reported very poor.

To enhance better teaching and learning, teachers use ICT tools such as LCD projector, multimedia etc. There has been positive responses with majority of the respondents marking it as very good (88), good(183), fair(118) while poor (27) and very poor(3). Use of such tools has brought about great improvement in students' performance and conceptual understanding of the subjects.

STUDENT SATISFACTION SURVEY

The overall quality of teaching and learning process has been marked as very good by 138 respondents, majority of the respondents that is 225 found it good, remaining 57 students reported it as fair, 6 respondents reported poor and 3 respondents as very poor. This graph shows that there has been utmost satisfaction among students with the overall quality of teaching and learning of the institution.

Out of 426 respondents 145 respondents reported very good, 174 found it good, 88 of them found it fair while 15 students found that the basic amenities were adequate. Though there is moderate level of satisfaction among students.

Internal evaluation process by the teacher

The graph shows that 125 respondents feel that the internal evaluation by the teachers as good, 191 reported very good, 104 students feel fair and the remaining respondents feel that evaluation /assessment mechanism adopted are poor.

Field visit opportunities for students are

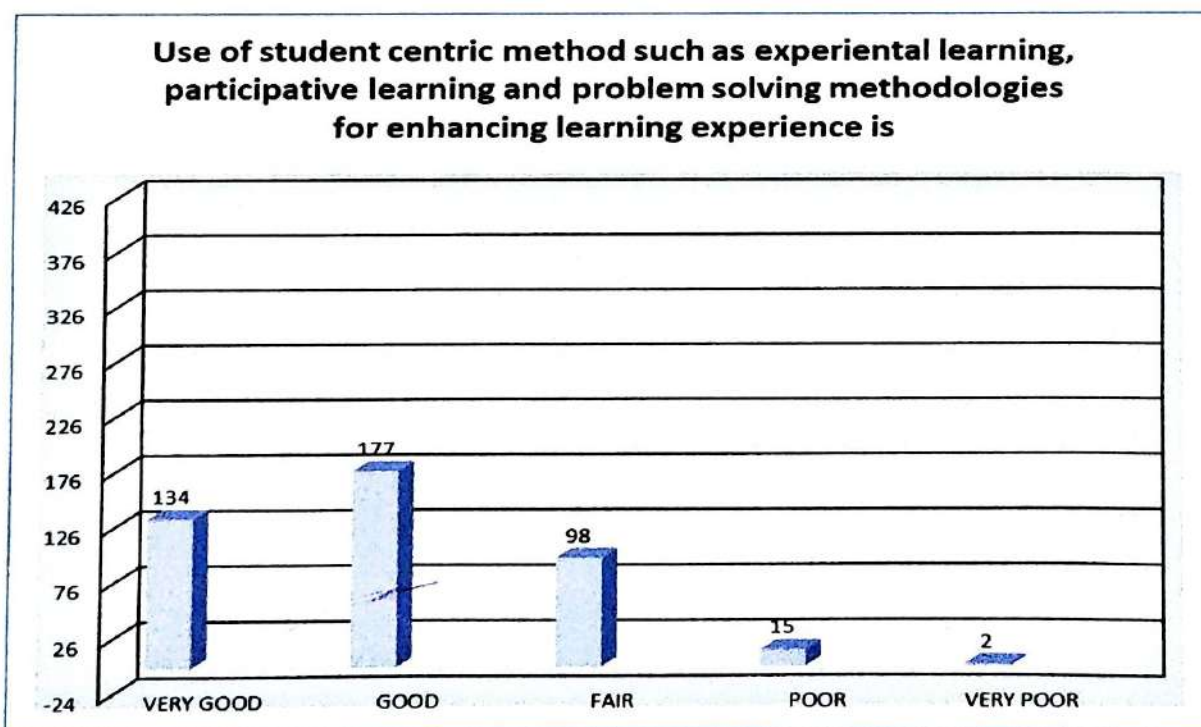

In terms of field visit opportunities, 103,190, 86 of the respondents reported positive with the opportunities provided by the college in terms of very good, good and fair while 43 respondents and 7 respondents reported negative in terms of poor and very poor. However, one can see that there has been tremendous effort by the college to provide opportunities for the students and students are satisfied with the opportunities .

The above graph shows that the grievance redressal of the students where 111 responded very good, 191 respondents found it good, 113 respondents found it fair while the remaining 12 reported it as poor and 7 reported it as very poor. The students are overall satisfied with the redressal of grievances. The problems faced by students are taken care of by various committees such as Grievance Redressal Committee and Internal Complaints Cell.

The teaching faculty devises various student centric method such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem methodologies to enhance student's learning experience. 134 respondents opined very good, 177 as good, 68 as fair and the rest of the respondents found it poor. The students are satisfied with the methodologies incorporated by their teachers.

The institution is still working on to develop the infrastructures and provide the basic amenities to the students.

Thus, one can see that more than 90% of the participants responded that they are satisfied with the services rendered by the college. However, shortcomings identified in the survey are taken note of and we are expecting better results in the coming year.

